

2016 IMPACT REPORT

Celebrating two decades of service to New Mexico tribal communities!

20th ANNIVERSARY

COALITION to STOP VIOLENCE AGAINST NATIVE WOMEN

2016 marked 20 years of service to New Mexico tribal communities. 20 years of building a broad and unified movement that works to end violence against Native women and children. Today, CSVANW is at the forefront of a dynamic approach to the tribal domestic and sexual violence prevention movement. We are sourcing the most effective, creative and innovative ways to address and prevent the cycle of violence against our women and children. Across the region we have mobilized hundreds of Native people to become a part of a strong network who advocate for better services, response and community-based programming.

For 20 years, the Coalition has provided critical training, policy advocacy resources to tribal leaders, top federal and state officials, service providers, tribal law enforcement, victims, as well as those who prosecute violent offenders.

MISSION

To stop violence against Native women and children by advocating for social change.

VISION & APPROACH

- Supporting community-based solutions
- Creating opportunities as a foundation for action
- Improving, supporting and building the capacities of our tribes and Pueblos to sustain healthy communities
- Establishing trust, partnership and reciprocity for collective action

STRATEGY

CSVANW has four focus areas:

1. Training
2. Technical Assistance
3. Policy Advocacy
4. Support

The approach is informed by one fundamental value: work to engage tribal communities and community solutions created through partnerships and relationships based on respect.

COMMUNITY IMPACT

CSVANW tapped its broad and unified network, and leveraged its state and federal partnerships to provide the following major community events in 2016.

1. Protecting our Native Children 2-Day Roundtable
2. Albuquerque Community Gathering for Ashlyne Mike
3. 2016 Native Youth Summit
4. CSVANW Running Team for 5ks and Shiprock Marathon
5. #IWillRunForHer Community 5k
6. Honoring our 20 years of Service dinner reception and awards ceremony
